Officer. A Meffenger from the Gallies. Duke. Now? What's the busineffe? Sader. The Turkish Preparation makes for Rhodes, So was I bid report here to the State, By Signior Angelo.

Duke. How fay you by this change? 1. Sen. This cannot be

By no affay of reason. 'Tis a Pageant I o keepe vain falle gaze, when we confider Th'importancie of Cyprus to the Turke; And let our felues againe but vhderftand, That as it more concernes the Turke then Rhodes, So may he with more facile queftion beare it, For that it flands not in fuch Warrelike brace, But altogether lackes th'abilities That Rhodes is drefs'd in. If we make thought of this, We toult not thinke the Turke is fo viskillfull, To leaue that latefl, which concernes hin firft, NegleCling an attempt of cate, and gaine To wake, and wage a dinger profitelle.

Duke. Nay, in all confidence he's not for Rhodes. Officer. Here is more Newes.

1. Sen. Here comes Trabantio, and the Valiant Moore.

Enter Brabansio, Otbello, Calfio, Iago, Rodorigo, and Officers.

Duke. Valiant Othello, we must firaight employ you, Against the generall Enemy Ottoman. I did not see you: welcome gentle Signior,

We lack't your Counfaile, and your helpe to night. Bra. So did I yours : Good your Grace pardon me. Neither my place, hor ought I heard of bufineffe Hath rais'd me from my bed; nor doth the generall care Take hold on me. She is abus'd, ftolue from me, and corrupted By Spels, and Medicines, bought of Mountebanks; For Nature, fo prepoftrowfly to erre, (Being not deficient, blind, or lame offenfe,) Sans witch-craft could not.

Duke. Who ere he be, that in this foule proceeding Hath thus beguil'd your Daughter of hes feife, And you of her; the bloodie Booke of Law, You fhall your felfe read, in the bitter letter, After your owne fenfe : yea, though our proper Son Stood in your Action. Bra. Humbly I thanke your Grace, Oshe. Moft Potent, Graue, and Reueren'd Signiors, My very Noble, and approu'd good Mafters; That I have tane away this old mans Daughters It is most true : true I haue married her; The verie head, and front of my offending, Hath this extent; no more. Rude am I, in my speech, And little blefs'd with the foft phrafe of Peace; For fince these Armes of mine, had seven yeares pith, Till now, some nine Moones wasted, they have vs'd Their deereft action, in the Tented Field : And little of this great world can I speake, More then pertaines to Feats of Broiles, and Battaile, And therefore little shall I grace my cause, In speaking for my selfe. The Tragedie of Othello

How I did thring in this faire Ladies loue, And the in mine, Duke. Say it Osbelle. Orbe. Her Father lou'd me, oft inuited me : Still queftion'd me the Storie of my life, From yeare to yeare : the Battaile, Sieges, Fortune, That I have paft. I ran it through, even from my boyith daies, Toth'very moment that he bad me tell it. Wherein I spoke of most difastrous chances : Of mouing Accidents by Flood and Field, Of haire-breadth scapes i'th'imminent deadly breachs Of being taken by the Infolent Foe, And fold to flauery. Of my redemption thence, And portance in my Trauellours hiftorie. Wherein of Antars vaft, and Defarts idle, Rough Quarries, Rocks, Hills, whole head touch heauen, It was my hint to speake. Such was my Processe, And of the Canibals that each others eate, The Antropophagne, and men whole heads Grew beneath their fhoulders. These things to heare, Would Defdemona ferioufly incline : But still the house Affaires would draw her hence : Which ever as the could with hafte difpatch, She'l'd come againe, and with a greedie care Deuoure vp my discourse. Which I observing, Tooke once a pliant houre, and found good meanes To draw from her a prayer of earnest heart, That I would all my Pilgrimage dilate, o Whereof by parcels the had fomething heard, But not inflinctively : I did confent, And often did beguile her of her teares. When I did speake of some distressefull stroke That my youth fuffer'd : My Storie being done, She gaue me for my paines a world of killes: She fwore in faith 'swas strange : 'twas passing strange, 'Twas pittifull : 'twas wondrous pittifull. She wish'd she had not heard it, yet she wish'd That Heauen had made her fuch a man. She thank'd me, And bad me, if I had a Friend that lou'd her, I thould but teach him how to tell my Story And that would wooches. Vpon this hint I spake, She lou'd me for the dangers I had patt, And I lou'd her, that the did pitty them. This onely is the witch-craft I have vs'd. Here comes the Ladie : Let her witneffe it.

Enter Desdemona, lago, Attendants.

Duke. I thinke this tale would win my Daughter too, Good Brabantie, take vp this mangled matter at the beft: Men do their broken Weapons rather vie, Then their bare hands.

Bra. I pray you heare her speake? If the confeste that the was halfe the wooer, Defruction on my head, if my bad blame Light on the man. Come hither gentle Mistris, Do you perceiue in all this Noble Companie, Where most you owe obedience?

Def. My Noble Father, 7 do perceiue heere a diuided dutie. To you I am bound for life, and education: My life and education both do learne me, How to refpect you. You are the Lord of duty, I am hitherto your Daughter. But heere's my Husband; And fo much dusie, as my Mosher fhew'd

To you, preferring you before her Father: Somuch I challenge, that Imay prefette Due to the Moore my Lord.

Bra. God be with you : I have done. Please it your Grace, on to the State Affaires I had rather to adopt a Child, then get it. Come hither Moore; I here do give thee that with all my heart. Which but thou haft already, with all my heart

I would keepe from thee. For your fake (Iewell) I am glad at foule, I haue no other Child, For thy escape would teach me Tirranie To hang clogges on them. I have done my Lord.

Duke. Let me speake like your selfe : And lay a Sentence,

Which as a grife, or step may helpe these Louers. When remedies are paft, the griefes are ended By feeing the worft, which late on hopes depended. To mourne a Mischeese that is past and gon, Is the next way to draw new mischiefe on. What cannot be prefern'd, when Fortune takes : Patience, her Insury a mock'ry makes. The rob'd that smiles, steales something from the Thiefe, He robs himfelfe, that spends a booteleffe griefe.

Bra. So let the Turke of Cyprus vs beguile, We loofe it not fo long as we can fmile : He beares the Sentence well, that nothing beares, But the free comfort which from thence he hearer. But he beares both the Sentence, and the forrow, That to pay griefe, mult of poore Patience borrow. These Sentences, to Sugar, or to Gall, Being ftrong on both fides, are Equiuocall. But words are words, I neuer yet did heare : That the bruized heart was pierc'd through the cares. I humbly befeech you proceed to th'Affaires of State.

Dake. The Turke with a most mighty Preparation makes for Cyprus: Othello, the Fortitude of the place is best knowne to you. And though we have there a Substitute of most allowed sufficiencie; yet opinion, a more souerzigne Mittris of Effects, throwes a more fafer voice on you : you must therefore be content to flubber the gloffe of your new Fortunes, with this more flubborne, and boyfrous expedition.

Othe. The Tirant Custome, most Graue Senators, Hath made the flinty and Steele Coach of Warre My thrice-driven bed of Downe, I do agnize A Naturall and prompt Alacaítie, I finde in hardneffe : and do vndertake This present Warres against the Ostamites. Moft humbly therefore bending to your State, I craue fit disposition for my Wife, Due reference of Place, and Exhibition, With fuch Accomodation and befort As levels with her breeding. Dake. Why at her Fathers? Bra. I will not have it fo. Othe. Nor I. Def. Nor would I therorecide, To put my Father in impatient thoughts' By being in his eye. Most Greaious Duke, To my vnfolding, lend your prosperous eare, And let me finde a Charter in your voice T'affift my fimpleneffe. Duke. What would you Defdemens? Duke. What would you Defdemona? Def. That I love the Moore, to live with him,

My downe-right violence, and ftorme of Fortunes,

May

the Moore of Venice.

May trumpet to the world. My hear t's Gabdu'd Even to the very quality of my Lord: I faw Othello's vilage in his mind, And to his Honours and his valuant pares, Did I my foule and Fortunes confectate. So that (deere Lords) if I be left behind A Moth of Peace, and he go to the Warre, The Rites for why I love him, are bereft me : And I a heauie interion shall support By his deere absence. Let me go with him.

Othe. Let her haue your voice. Vouch with me Heaven, I therefore beg it not To please the pallate of my Appetite: Nor to comply with heat the yong affects In my defunct, and proper latisfaction. But to be free, and bounteous to her minde: And Heaven defend your good foules, that you thinke I will your ferious and great bufineffe feant When the is with me. No, when light wing'd Toyes Of feather'd Cupid, seele with wanton dulneffe My (peculatine, and offic'd Inftrument : That my Difports corrupt, and taint my bufineffe : Let Houle-wives make a Skillet of my Helme, And all indigne, and bafe aduerficies, Make head againft my Effimation.

Duke. Be it as you shall privately determine, Either for her flay, or going : th'Affaire cries haft: And speed must answer it.

Sen. You muft away to night.

Othe. With all my heart.

Duke. At nine i'th'morning, here wee'l meete againe. Othello, leaue some Officer behind An the shall our Commission bring to you: And such things else of qualitie and respect As doth import you,

Othe. So please your Grace, my Ancient, A man he is of honefty and truft : To his conueyance Laffigne my wife. With what elfe needfull, your good Grace fhall think To be sent after me. Dake. Let it be fo $

Good night to every one. And Noble Signior, If Vertue no delighted Beautie lacke, Your Son-in-law is farre more Faire then Blacke.

Sen. Adieu braue Moore, vie Defdemona well. Bra. Looke to her (Moore) if thou haft eies to fee:

She ha's deceiu'd her Facher, and may thee, Exit. Othe. My life vpon her faith. Honeft lago,

My Defdemona muft lleaue to thee :

I prythee let thy wife attend on her,

And bring them after in the best aduantage. Come Desdemona, I have but an houre

Of Loue, of wordly matter, and direction

To spend with thee. We must obey the the time. Exit. Rod. Iago.

Ingo. What faist thou Noble heart?

Rod. What will I do, think's thou?

Ingo. Why go to bed and fleepe.

Red. I will incontinently drowne my felfe.

Iago. If thou do'ft, I shall never love thee after. Why thou filly Gentleman?

Rod. It is filly neffe to line, when to live is torment : and then have we a prefeription to dye, when death is our Phylition.

lage. Oh villanous : I have look'd vpon the world for foure times feuen yeares, and fince I could diftinguith betwixt a Benefit, and an Injurie -I never found man that knew how to love himfelfe. Ere I would fay, I would drowne my felfe for the love of a Gynney Hen, I would change my Humanity with a B.boone.

Red. What fhould I do? 1 confeile it is my fhame to be fo fond, but it is not in my vertue to amend it.

lago. Vertue? A figge, 'tis in our felacs that we are thus, or thus. Our Bodies are our Gardens, to the which, our Wills are Gardiners. So that if we will plant Nestels, or lowe Lettice : Set Hilope, and weede vp Time: Supplie it with one gender of Hearbes, or diffract it with many : either to have it fterrill with idleneffe, or manured with Industry, why the power, and Corrigeable authoritie of this lies in our Wills. If the braine of our littes had not one Scale of Reafon, to poize another of Sentualitie, the blood, and basenesse of our Natures would conduct vs to most prepostrous Conclusions. But we haue Reason to coole our raging Motions, our carnall Stings, or vnbitted Lufts : whereof I take this, that you call Loue, to be a Sect, or Seyen.

Rod. It cannot be.

lago. It is meerly a Luft of the blood, and a permillion of the will. Come, bea man : drowne thy felfe? Drown Cats, and blind Puppies. I haue profest me thy Friend, and I confesse me knit to thy deserving, with Cables of perdurable roughnesse. I could neuer better fleed thee then now. Put Money in thy purfe follow theu the Warres, defeate thy fauour, with an vfurp'd Beard. I fay put Money in thy purfe. It cannot be long that Defdemona should continue her loue to the Moore. Put Money in thy purfe: nor he his to her. It was a violent Commence: ment in her, and thou ilialt fee an aniwerable Sequefirstion, put but Money in thy putte. These Moores are changeable in their wils . fill thy purfe with Money. The Food that to him now is as lufhious as Locufts, shalbe to him shortly, as bitter as Coloquintida. She must change for youth : when the is fared with his body the will find the errors of her choice. Therefore, put Money in thy purfe. If thou wilt needs damne thy felfe, do it a more delicate way then drowning. Make all the Money thou canst : If Sanctimonie, and a fraile vow, betwixt an erring Barbarian, and fuper-lubile Venetian be not too hard for my wits , and all the Tube of hell, thou fhalt enjoy her : therefore make Money : a pox of drowning thy felfe, it is cleane out of the way. Seeke thou rather to be hang'd in Compassing thy ioy, then to be drown'd, and go without her.

Rode. Wilt thou be fast to my hopes, if I depend on the iffic?

Ingo. Thou art fure of me: Go make Money : I have told thee often, and I re-tell thee againe, and againe, I hate the Moore, My caute is hearted; thine bath no leffe reason. Let vs be coniunctiue in our reuenge, against him. If thou canft Cuckold him, thou doft thy felfe a pleasure, me a sport. There are many Euents in the Wombe of Time, which wilbe deliuered. Trauerle, go, provide thy Money. We will have more of this to morrow. Adieu.

Muit bring this monftrous Birth, to the worlds light.

Actus Secundus. Scena Prima.

Enter Montane, and two Gentlemen,

Mon. What from the Cape, can you differne at Sea? I.Gent. Nothing at all, it is a high wrought Flood: I cannot 'twixt the Heauen, and the Maine, Descry a Saile.

Alon. Me thinks, the wind hath spoke aloud at Land, A fuller blaft ne're shooke our Battlements : If it hath ruffiand to vpon the Sea, What ribbes of Oake, when Mountaines melt on them,

Can hold the Morties. What fhall we heare of this? 2 A Segregation of the Turkith Fleet :

For do but fand vpon the Foaming Shore, The chidden Billow seemes to pelt the Clowds, The winde-fhak'd-Surge, with high & monftrous Maine Seemes to caft water on the burning Beare, And quench the Guards of th'euer-fixed Poles I neuer did like mollestation view On the enchafed Flood.

Men. If that the Turkish Fleete Be not enflichter'd, and embay'd, they are drown'd, It is impossible to beare it out.

Enter a Gentleman.

3 Newes Laddes : our warres are done : The desperate Tempest hath so bang'd the Turkes, That their defignement halts. A Noble ship of Venice, Hath feene a greeuous wracke and fufferance On most part of their Fleet, Mon. How? Is this true ?

3 The Ship is here put in: A Verennessa, Michael Caffio Lieutenant to the warlike Moore, Othelle, Is come on Shore . the Moore himfelfe at Ses, And is in full Commission heere for Cyprus.

Mon. I am glad on't :

'Tis a worthy Gouernour.

3 But this fame Caffie, though he speake of comfort, Touching the Turkish losse, yet he lookes fadly, And praye the Moore be fafe ; for they were parted With fowle and violent Tempelt. Mon. Pray Heavens he be :

For I have feru'd him, and the man commands Like a full Soldier. Let's to the Sea-fide (hoa) As well to fee the Veffell that's come in As to throw-out our eyes for braue Oibello Euen till we make the Maine, and th'Eriall blew, An indiftin& regard.

Gent. Come, let's do fo; For euery Minute 1s expectancie Of more Arriuancie.

Enter Caffio. Caffi. Thankes you, the valiant of the warlike Isle, That to approve the Moore: Oh let the Heauens Giue him defence against the Elements, For I have loft him on a dangerous Sea. Mon. Is he well thip'd? Caffio. His Barke is ftourly Timber'd, and his Pylot Of verie expert, and approu'd Allowance; Therefore my hope's (not furfetted to death) Stand in bold Cure. Wishin. A Saile, a Saile, a Saile. Caffie. What notic? Gent. The Towne is empty; on the brow o'th'Sea Stand rankes of People, and they cry, a Saile. Caffie My hopes do shape him for the Gouernor. Gent. They do discharge their Shot of Courtefie, Our Friends, at leaft. Caffio. I pray you Sir, go forth, And give vs truth who 'tis that is arriu'd. Gent. 1 Mall. Exit. Mon. But good Lieutenant, is your Generall wiu'd? Ceffie. Moft fortunately : he hath atchicu'd a Maid That paragons description, and wilde Fame : One that excels the quirkes of Blazoning pens, And in th'effentiall Vefture of Creation, Do's tyre the Ingeniver. Euter Gentleman. How now? Who ha's put in? Gent. 'Tis one lago, Auncient to the Generall. Caffio. Ha's had most fauourable, and happie speed : Tempetts themselves, high Seas, and howling windes, The gutter'd-Rockes, and Congregated Sands, Traitors ensteep'd, to enclogge the guiltleffe Keele,

As having fence of Beautie, do omit

Their mottall Natures, letting go fafely by

The Divine Desdemona. Mon. What is the?

Caffie. She that I fpake of:

Our great Captains Captaine, Left in the conduct of the bold Inge, Whole footing neere anticipates our thoughts, A Senights speed. Great Joue, Othello guard And fwell his Soile with thine owne powrefull breath, That he may bleffe this Bay with his tall Ship, Make loues quicke pants in Defdemouses Armes, Giue renew'd fire to our extincted Spirits.

Enter Defdemona, Iago, Rodorigo, and Æmilia. Ohbehold, The Riches of the Ship is come on fhore : You men of Cyprus, let her haue your knees. Haile to thee Ladie : and the grace of Heauen, Before, behinde thee, and on every hand Enwheele thee round. Des. I thanke you, Valiant Cassio, What tydings can you tell of my Lord?

Caffio

ibe Moore of Venice.

Caf. Heis not yet arrivid, nor know I ought felfe. But that he's well, and will be fhortly heere. Def. Oh, but I feate : I ow loft you company? Caffio. The great Contention of Sea, and Skies Parted our fellowfhip. But hearke,a Saile. Wathin. A Saile, a Saile. Gent. They grue this greeting to the Cittadell : This likewife is a Friend. Caffio. Sec for the Newcs 1 Good Ancient, you are welcome. Welcome Mistris : Let it not gaule your patience (good lago) That I extend my Manners. 'Tis my breeding, That gives me this bold thew of Currefie. Ingo. Sir, would the give you fomuch of her lippes, As of her tongue the of beftowes on me, You would have enough. Def. Alas - the ha's no speech. Inge. Infaith too much: I finde it full, when I have leave to fleepe. Marry before your Lady fup, I grant, She puts het tongue a little in her heart, And chides with thinking. Æmil. You have little caufe to lay fo. lago. Comeon, come on : you are Pistures out of doore: Bells in your Parlours : Wilde-Cats in your Kitchens : Saints in your Inturies : Diuels being offended : Players in your Huswiferie, and Huswides in your Beds. Def. Oh, fie vpon thee, Slanderer. Ingo. Nay, st is true : or eile I am a Turke, You rife to play, and go to bed to worke. Æmil. You shall vot write my praise. lage. No, let me not. fake. Delde. What would'st write of me, if thou should'st praise me? Ingo. Oh,gentle Lady, do not put me coo,t, For I am nothing, if not Criticall. Def. Come on, aliay There's one gone to the Harbour? lage. I Madam. Def. Iam not merry : but I do beguile The thing I am, by feeming otherwife, Come, how would's thou praise me? Iago. I am about it, but indeed my invention comes from my pate, as Birdlyme do's from Freeze, it pluckes out Braines and all, But my Muse labours, and thus she is deliver'd. If the be faire, and wife: fairenesse, and wis, The ones for vse, the other vseth st. Def. Well prais'd: How if the be Blacke and Witty ? lago. If the be blacke, and shereto have a wit, She'le find a white, that shall her blacknesse fit. Def. Worfe, and worfe. efmil. How if Faire, and Foolifh? Ingo. She newer yet was foelich that was faire, For even her folly belps her to an heire. Defde. These are old fond Paradox , to make Fooles laugh s'th'Alehouse. What miserable praise hast thou for her that's Foule, and Foolish. lago. There's none fo foule and foolish thereunto, Bas do's fonie pranks which faire, and wife-ones de. Defde. Oh heauy ignorance: thou prail est the worst best. But what praise could's thou bestow on a deferuing woman indeed ? One, that in the authorithy of her)

Ingo. To suchie Fooles , and shows cle small Berre.

Defde. Oh most lame and impotent conclusion. Do not learne of him Emilia, though he be thy husband. How fay you (Caffie) is he not a most prophane, and trberali Countailor?

Caffia. He speakes home (Madam) you may rellish l'un more in the Souldier, then in the Scholler.

I ago He takes her by the palme : I. well faid, whifa per. With as little a web as this, will I enfoare as great a Fly as Caflo. I imile woon her, dor I will give thee in thine owne Coartilip. You fay true, 'tis foindeed. If fuch tricks as thefe firip you out of your Licutehantrie, it had beene better you had not kifs'd your three fugers fo off, which now againe you are most apt to piay the Sir, iv. Very good : well kifs'd, and excellent Curtfie : 'tis fo indeed. Yet againe, your fidgets to your lippes ? Would they were Cluster-pipes for your fake.

The Moore I know his Trumpet. Caffio, 'Tis trucky fo.

Def. Let's meete him, and recleue him. Caffie. Loc, where he comes.

Enter Othello, and Astendants:

Oib O, my faire Warriour. Def. My deere Othello. Othe. It gives me wonder great, as my content To fee you heere before me. Ohmy Soules Toy : If after every Tempest, come such Calmes, May the windes blow, till they have waken'd death : And let the labouring Barke climbe htlls of Seas Olympus high : 2nd duck againe as low, As heli's from Heauen. If it were now to dye, Twere now to be most happy. For I feare, My Soule hath her content fo abfolute, That not another comfort like to this, Succeedes in voknowne Fate. Def. The Heauens forbid But that our Lones And Comforts fhould encrease Even as our dayes do grow. Oibe. Amen to that (iweet Powers) I cannot speake enough of this content, It floppes me heere : it is too much of iog. And this, and this the greateft discords be That ere our hearts fall make.

lage. Oh yon are well tun'd now : But lie fet downe the peggs that make this Muficke, so boneft as I am. t t Othe.

Othe. Come: let vs to she Cattle. Newes (Friends) our Warres are done : The Furkes are drown'd. How do's my old Acquaintance of this Ife? (Hony)yoe thall be well defired in Cyprus, I have found great love among It them, Oh my Sweet, I prattle out of fashion, and I doate In mine owne comforts, I prythee, good Inge, Go to the Bay, and dilimbacke my Coffers: Bring thos the Mafter to the Cittadell, He is a good one, and his worthy neffe Do's challenge much respect. Come Defdemona, Once more well mat at Cyprus.

Exis Osbello and Defdemona.

Inc. Do thou meet me prefently at the Harbour. Come thither, if thou be'ft Valiant, (as they fay bafe men being in Loue, have then a Nobilitie in their Natures, more then is native to them) lift-me; the Lieutenant to night watches on the Court of Guard. First, I must tell thee this : Defdemone, is directly in love with him.

Red. With him? Why, 'tis not possible.

lage. Lay thy finger thus: and let thy foule be in-ftructed. Marke me with what violence the first lou'd the Moore, but for bragging, and telling her fantafticall lies. To love him full for prating, let not thy discreet heart thinke it. Her eye must be fed. And what delight shall the haue to looke on the diuell? When the Blood is made dull with the Act of Sport, there should be a game to enflame is, and to give Satiety a fresh appetite. Louelinelle in favour, simpathy in yeares, Manners, and Beauties : all which the Moore is defective in. Now for want of these requir'd Conueniences, her delig te tendernesse wil finde it felfe abus'd, begin to hence the gorge, difrellish and abhorre the Moore, very Nature wil instrugt her in mand compell her to some second choice. Now Sir, this granted (as it is a most pregnant and vnforc'd polition) who finds fo eminent in the degree of this Forune, as Caffir do's : a knaue very voluble . no further confeionable, then in putting on the meere for a e of Ciuill, and Humaine feeming, for the better compafie of his falt, and most hidden loole Affection? Why none, why none : A flipper, and fubile knaue, a finder of occafion : that he's an eye can flampe, and counterfeit Aduantages, though true Aduantage neuer present it felte. A diuelifh knaue:bolides, the knaue is handlome, young : and hath all those requisites in him, that fully and greene mindes looke after. A pestilent complete knaue, and the women hach found him already.

Rode. I cannot beleeue that in her, fne's full of most bles'd condition.

logo. Blefs'd figges-end . The Wine the drinkes is made of grapes. If thee had beene blefs'd, thee would neuer haue lou'd the Moure. Blefs'd pudding, Didft thou not fee her paddle with the palme of his hand? Didft not marke that?

Red. Yes, that I did : bur that was but currefie.

Ingo. Leacherie by this hand : an Index, and obscure prologue to the Hiftory of Luft and foule Thoughts. They met fo neere with their lippes, that their breathes embrac'd together. Villanous thoughts Rederige, when rhefe mutabilities fo marthall the way, hard at hand comes the Mafter, and maine exercise, th'incorporate conclusion : Pith. But Sir, be you rul'd by me. I haue brought you from Venice. Watch you to night : for the Command, He lay't vpon you. Ceffie knowes you not : He not be farre from you. Do you finde some occasion to anger Caffie, either by speaking too loud, or sainting his discipline, or from what other course you please, which the time hall more fauorably min nister.

Red. W.ell.

Jago. Sir, he's roth, and very fodaine in Choller: and happely may firike at you, prouoke him that he may : for euen out of that will I caufe thefe of Cypres to Mutiny. Whole qualification shall come into no true taffe againe, but by the displanting of Caffie. So shall you haue a fhorter journey to your defires, by the meanes I shall then have to preferre them. And the impediment most profitably removed, without the which there were no expectation of our prosperitie.

Rode. I will do this, if you can bring it to any oppor. tunity.

Ingo. I warrant thee. Meete me by and by at the Cutadell, I must fetch his Necessaries a Shore, Farewell.

Rede. Adieu.

Exit. Ingo. That Caffie loues her, I do well beleeu't : That the loves him, 'tis apt, and of great Credite. The Moore (how beit that I endure him not) Is of a constant, louing, Noble Nature, And I care chinke, he'le prove to Defdemona A m. flueere husband. Now I do loue her toos Nor out of ab folute Luft, (though peraduenture I fland accomptant for as great a fin) But parte'y led to dyet my Reuenge, kon that I do fuspect the luftie Moore Hath leap'd into my Seate. Enter Desdemona attended.

Looke if my gentle Loue be not rais'd vp : lle make thee an example.

Def. What is the matter (Decre?)

Othe. All's well, Sweeting:

Come away to bed. Sir for your hurts,

My felfe will be your Surgeon. Lead him off:

lago, looke with care about the Towne,

And filence thosewhom this vil'd brawle diftracted.

Come Desdemona, 'tis the Soldiers life,

Tohaue their Balmy flumbers wak'd with firste. Exit. Iago. What are you hurt Lieutenant?

Caf. I past all Surgery .

Ingo. Marry Heaven forbid.

Caf. Reputation, Reputation, Reputation: Oh I have loft my Reputation. I have loft the immortall part of myfelfe, and what remaines is bestiall. My Reputation, lago, my Reputation.

lage. As I am an honeft man I had thought you had receiued some bodily wound; there is more sence in that then in Reputation. Reputation is an idle, and most falfe impoficion; oft got without merit, aud loft without deseruing. You haue lost no Reputation at all, vnlesse you repute your selfe such a loofer. What man, there are more wayes to recouer the Generall againe. You are but now cast in his moode, (a punishment more in policie, then in malice) euen so as one would beste his oftescelesse dogge, roaffright an Imperious Lyon. Sue to him againe ,and he's yours.

caf. I will rather sue to be despis'd, then to deceiue to good a Commander, with fo flight, fo drunken, and fo indiferent an Officer. Drunke ? And speake Parrat ? And fquabble?Swagger ? Sweare ? And discourse Fustian with jones owne fhadow ? Oh thou invisible spirit of Wine, if thou haft no name to be knowne by, let vs call thee Diuell.

lage. What was he that you follow'd with your Sword ? What had he done to you?

Caf. Iknownot.

Iago, 1s't possible ? Caf. I remember amasse of things, but nothing distinctly: a Quarrell, but nothing wherefore. Oh, that men should put an Enemie in their mouthes, to steale away their Braines? that we should with ioy, pleafance, reucli and applause, transforme out selues into Beafis.

Iago. Why? But you are now well enough : how came you thus recovered?

Caf. It hath pleas'd the diuell drunkennesse, to giue place to the divell wrath, one vnperfectnesse, flewes me another to make me frankly despise my selfe.

lago. Come, you are too feueres Moraller. As the Time, the Place, & the Condition of this Country flands I could hartily with this had not befalne ibut fince it is,28 it is, mend it for your owne good.

Caf. I will aske him for my Place againe, he fhall tell me, I am a drunkard : had I as many mouthes as Hydra, such an answer would ftop them all. To be now a senfible man, by and by a Foole, and prefently a Beaft. Oh ftrange! Euery inordinate cup is vablefs'd, and the Ingredient is a diuell.

lage. Come, come: good wine, is a good famillar Creature, if it be well vs'd :exclaime no more sgainft it. And good Lieutenant, I thinke, you thinke I lose you.

Caffio. I have well approued it, Sir. I drunke?

Ingo. You, or any man liding, may be drunke at a time man. I tell you what you shall do: Our General's Wife, is now the Generall. 1 may fay to, in this respect, for that he hath deuoted, and given vp hunfelfe to the Contemplation, marke : and deuotement of her parts and Graces. Confesse your telle freely to her : Importune her helpe to put you in your place againe. She is of to free, to kinde, fo apt, fo bleffed a disposition, she holds it a vice in her goodnesse, not to do more then the is requetted. This broken joynt betweene you, and her husband, entreat her to splinter. And my Fortunes against any lay worth naming, this cracke of your Loue, shall grow stonger, then it was before.

Caffie. You aduife me well.

lago. I proteft in the finceritie of Loue, and honeft kindneffe.

Caffio. I thinke it freely : and betimes in the motning, I will befeech the vertuous Defdemona to vidertake for me : I am desperate of my Fortunes if they check me.

lago. You arein the right : good night Lieutenant, I must to the Watch.

Caffio. Good night, honeft Lago.

Exit Caffio.

Iago. And what's he then, That faies I play the Villaine? When this aduife is free I give, and honeft, Proball to thinking, and indeed the courie To win the Moore againe. For 'tis molt eafie Th'inclyning Desdemona to lubdue In any honeft Suite. She's fram'd as fruitefull As the free Elements. And then for her To win the Moore, were to renownce his Baptisme, All Scales, and Simbols of redeemed fin: His Soule is fo enfecter'd to her Loue, That fhe may make, vnmake, do what the lift, Euen as her Appetite fhall play the God, With his weake Function. How sm I then a Villaine, To Counfell Ciffie to this paralell courfe, Directly to his good? Divinitie of hell, When divels will the blackeft finnes put on, They do fuggeft at fiff with heauenly fhewes, As I donow. For whiles this honeft Foole Plics Defdemona, to repaire his Fortune, And the for him, pleades ftrongly to the Moore, Ile powre this pestilence into his eare : That she repeales him, for her bodies Luft. And by how much the firiues to do him good, She shall vndo her Credite with the Moore. So will I turne her vertue into pitch And out of her owne goodneffe make the Net, That shall en-mash them all. How now Rodorigo ?

Enter Roderige.

Rederige. I do follow here in the Chace, not like a Hound that hunts, but one that filles vp the Crie. My Money is almost spenrs I have bin to night exceedingly well Cudgell'd : And I thinke the iffue will t t 3 will bee, I fhall have fo much experience for my paines ; And fo, with no money at all, and afittle more Wit, returne againe to Venice.

lage. How poore are they that have not Patience? What wound did euer heale but by degrees? Thou know'ft we worke by Wit, and not by Witchcraft And Wit depends on dilatory time : Dos't not go well? Caffie hath beaten thee, And thou by that f wall hurt hath cafheer'd Caffie: Though other things grow faire against the Sun, Yet Fruites that bloffome firft, will first be ripe : Content thy felfe, s-while. Introth'tis Morning; Pleafure, and Action, make the houres seeme short. Retire thee, go where thou are Billited : Away, I fay, thou shalt know more hecreafter : Nay get thee gone. Exit Rodorigo. Two things are to be done : My Wife muft moue for Calfio to her Miftris: Ile fet her on my felfe, a while, to draw the Moor apart, And bring him iumpe, when he may Caffio finde Soliciting his wife : I, that's the way :

Dull not Deuice, by coldneffe, and delay. Exit.

Actus Tertius. Scena Prima.

Enter Caffio, Musitians, and Clon i.s.

Caffio. Masters, play heere, I wil content your paines, Something that's briefe: and bid, goodmorrow General. Cle. Why Mafters, have your Inftruments bin in Naples, that they speake i'ch'Nose thus?

Mr. How Sir? how ?

Clo. Are thefe I pray you, winde Inftruments?

Muf. I marry are they fir. Clo. Oh, thereby hangs a tale.

Muf. Whereby hangs a tale, fir ?

Clow. Marry fir, by many a winde Inftrument that I know. But Mafters, heere's money for you : and the Generall fo likes your Mufick, that he defires you for loues fake to make no more noife with it.

714f. Weil Sir, we will not.

Clo. If you have any Mulicke that may not be heard, too't agoine. But (as they fay) to heare Muficke, the Generall do's not greatly care.

Muss. We have none fuch, fir.

Clow. Then put vp your Pipes in your bagge, for Ile away: Go.vanifh into ayre, away. Exst Mu Coffin Dolt thou heare me, mine honeftiFriend?

Clo. No, I heare not your honest Friend :

I heare yes.

C.f.o. Prythee keepe vp thy Q illets, ther's a poore pecce of Gold for thee : if the Gentic woman that attends the Generall be furring, tell her, there's one Caffio entreats her a little fauour of Speech. Wilt thou do this? (to. She is finring fin; if the will furre hither, I fhall feeine to notific vito her. Exit Clo.

Enter Lago.

In hoppy time, Ingo.

Iago You have not bin a-bed then?

Caffin. Why no : the day had broke before we parted. I have made bold (lago) to fend in to your wife My luice to her is, that the will to vertuous Desdemona Procure me some accesse.

Ingo. Ile fend her to you prefentiy : And Ile deuise a meane to draw the Moore Out of the way, that your converse and businesse May be more free. Exit Caffie. I humbly thanke you for't. I neuer knew

A Florentine more kinde, and honeft. Inter Amilia.

Amil. Goodmorrow(good Lieutenant) I am forrie For your dilpleafure : but all will fure be well. The Generall and his wife are talking of it, And the speakes for you fourly. The Moore replies, That he you hurt is of great Fame in Cyprus And great Affinitie : and that in wholfome Wifedome He might not but refuse you. But he protefts he loues you And needs no other Suitor, but his likings To bring you in againe.

Caffio. Yet I beleech you,

If you thinke fit, or that it may be done, Giue me aduantage of some bieefe Discourse With Defdemon alone.

Amil. Pray you come in: I will beftow you where you shall have time.

To speake your bosome freely.

Caffio. I an much bound to you.

Scorna Secunda.

Enter Othello, Jago, and Gentlemen. Othe. These Letters give (Iage) to the Pylot, And by him do my duties to the Senate : That done, I will be walking on the Workes, Repaire there to mee. iogo. Well, my good Lord, Ile doo't.

Scana Tertia.

Enter Dellimona Caffio and Ansilia. Def. Boti ou allur'd (good Caffio) I will do All my abil ties in thy behalfe. Aril. Good Madam do : I war at the greenes my Husband, As if the caufe were his. Def Oh that's an honeft Fellow, Do not doubt Caffie

But I will have my Lord, and you againe

As frier dly as you were.

Caffio. Bountcous Madam,

What ever fhall become of Michael Caffie, He's neuer any thing but your true Seruant.

Def. Iknow't : I thanke you: you do loue my Lord: You have knowne him long, and be you well affur'd He shall in Brangeneffe stand no farther off, Then in a politique distance.

Caffio. 1, but Lady,

That policie may either last fo long, Or feede vpon fuch nice and waterish diet, Or breede it selfe so out of Circumstances,

That I being abfent, and my place fupply'd, My Generall will forget my Loue, and Service.

The Tragedie of Othello

The worft of words. lege. Good my Lord pardon me, Though I am bound to euery Acte of dutie, I am not bound to that : All Slaues are free: Vetermy Thoughts? Why fay, they are vild, and falce? As where's that Palace, whereinto foule things Sometimes intrude not? Who ha's that break fo pure, Wherein vicleanly Apprehensions Keepe Lectes, and Law-dayes, and in Seffions fit With meditations lawfull? Oth. Thou do't confpire against thy Friend (lago) If thou but think's him wrong'd, and mak's his care A ftranger to thy Thoughts. Ingo. I do beseech you, Though I perchance am vicious in my gueffe (As I confesse it is my Natures plague To spy into Abuses, and of my realousie Shapes faults that are not) that your wiledome From one, that fo imperfectly concerts, Would take no notice, nor build your felfe a trouble Out of his scattering, and vnfure observance : Icwere not for your quiet, nor your good, Nor for my Manhood, Honefty, and Wiledon.c, To let you know my thoughts. Oib. What doft thou meane? Iago. Good name in Man, & woman(decre my Lord) Is the immediate lewell of their Soules; Who steales my purie, steales crash : Tis fomething, nothing; 'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has bin flaue to thousands : But he that filches from me my good Name, Robs me of that, which not enriches him, And makes me poore indeed. Oth. Ile know thy Thoughts. Iago You cannot, if my heart were in your hand, Nor ihall not, whil'ft 'tis in my cuftodie. Oib. Ha? Iago, Oh, beware my Lord, of sealoufie, It is the greene-cy'd Monfter, which doth mocke The meate it feeds on, That Cuckold lives in bliffe, Who certaine of his Face, loves not his wronger : But oh, what damned minutes els he ore, Who dotes, yet doubts : Suspects, yet soundly loues? Och. Omiterie. Jage. Poore, and Content, is rich, and rich enough, But Riches finelesse, is as poore as Winter, To him that euer feares he shall be poore : Good Heauen, the Soules of all my Tribe defend From lealoufic, Och. Why? why is this? Think's thou, I'ld make a Life of Icaloufie; To follow still the changes of the Moone With fresh suspitions ? No : to be once in doubt, Is to be refolu'd : Exchange me for a Goat, When I shall wrne the businesse of my Soule To fuch exufficate, and blow'd Surmifes, Matching thy inference. "Tis not to make me Iealious, To fay my wife is faire, feeds well, loues company, Is free of Speech, Sings, Playes, and Dances: Where Vertue is, these are more vertuous. Nor from mine owne weake merites, will I draw The finalleft feare, or doubt of her reuolt, For the had eyes, and chole me. No lago, Ile fee before I doubt ; when I doubt, proue ; And on the proofe, there is no more but this, Away at once with Louc, or Icaloufie.

14. I am glad of this : For now I shall have reason To fhew the Loue and Duty that I beare you With franker spirit. Therefore (as I am bound) Receiue it from me. I speake not yet of proofe : Looke to your wife, observe her well with Casin, Weare your eyes, thus : not lealious, nor Secure : 1 would not have your free, and Noble Nature, Out of felfe Bounty, be abus'd : Looke too't ; 1 know our Country disposition well: In Venice, they do let Heauen see the prankes They dare not shew their Husbands. Their best Conscience, Is not to leaue't vodone, but kept vnknowne. Oth Doit thou fay fo? lago. She did deceiue her Father, marrying you, And when the feem'd to fhake, and feare your lookes, She lou'd them moft. Oth. And fo fhe did. Ingo. Why go too then: Shee that fo young could give out fuch a Sceming To seele her Fathers eyes vp, close as Oake, He thought 'twas Witchcraft. But I am much too blame: 1 humbly do befeech you of your pardon For too much louing you. Oth 1 am bound to thee for euer. lago. I fee this hath a little dashi'd your Spirits . Cib. Notaiot, notaiot. Lige. Truft me, I feare it has : I hope you will confider what is fpoke Comes from your Loue. But I do set y'are moou'd : I am to pray you, not to straine my speech To groffer issues, nor to larger reach, Then to Sulpition. Orb. I will lot. I go, Should you do fo (my Lord) My peech thould fall into fuch vilde fucceffe, Which my Thoughts aym'd not. C fio's my worthy Friend: My Lord, lice y'are mou'd. Oth. No.not much mould. I do not think e but Desaemens's honeft. Lage Long hue the for; And long live you to thinke fo. Orb. And yet how Nature erring from it felfe. lage. 1, there's the point: As (to be bold with you) Not to affect many proposed Matches Other owne Clime, Complexion, and Degree, Whereto we see in all things, Nature tends: Foh, one may finel in fuch, a will most ranke, Foule disproportions, Thoughts vnnaturall. But (perden me) I do not in polition Diftinctly ipeake of her, though I may feare Her will, recoyling to her better iudgement, May fal to match you with her Country formes, And happily repent. Oth. Farewell, farewell : If more thou doft perceiue, let me know more: Secon thy wife to observe. Leave me lago. Ingo. My Lord, I cake my leave. Orbel. Why did I marry This honest Creature (doubtleffe) Sees, and knowes more, much more then he vnfolds. Taqo the Moore of Venice. 325 laze. My Lord, I would I might intrest your Honor Iage. You have a thing for me? To scan this thing no farther : Leave it to time, It is a common thing -Although 'tis fit that Caffio have his Place ; Amul. Hah? For ture he filles it vp with great Ability; Isgo. Trifles light as syre, Shee's gone. I am abus'd, and my relecte Must be to loath her. On Curse of Marriage! That we can call theie delicate Creatures ours, Are to the icalious, confirmations flrong And not their Appetites? I had rather be a Toad, As proofes of holy Writ. This may do fomething. The Moore already changes with my poyfon : And live vpon the vapour of a Dungeon, Dangerous concentes, are in their Natures poyfons, Then keepe a corner in the thing I love For others vies. Yet'tis the plague to Great-ones, Which at the fielt are fearfe found to diffaste: Prerogatiu'd ai e they leffe then the Bafe, But with a little acte vpon the blood, Tis deitiny vnihunnable, like death : Burne like the Mines of Sulphure, I did fay fo. Fuen then, this forked plague is Fated to vs, Enter Oibello. Looke where he comes Not Poppy, nor Mandragora, When we do quicken. Looke where the comes : Nor all the drowfie Syrrups of the world Shall ever medicine thereto that fweete fleepe Enter Defdemona and Amilia. Which thou owd it yefterday. If the be falle, Hesten mock'd it felfe : Oib. Ha, ha, falle to mee? He aot beleeue't. Laga. Why how now Generall? No more of that. Orb. Aualit, be gone : Thou haft fet me on the Racke: Def. How now, my decre Othelle? I swearc'ris better to be much abus'd, Your dinner, and the generous Islanders By you inuited, do attend your prelence. Then but to know ralittle. Oth. Iam too blame. Jage. Hownow, my Lord? Oih. What fenfe had I, in her ftolne houres of Luft? Def. Why do you speake so faintly? Are you not well? I faw't not, thought it not : it harm'd not me : Oth. I have a paine vpon my Forehead, heere. I flepr the near night well, fed well, was free, and merrie. Def. Why that's with watching, 'twill away sgaine. I found not Caffie's kiffes ou her Lippes: He that is robb'd, not wanting what is ftolne, Let me but binde it hard, within this houre Let him not know't, and he's not robb'd at all. It will be well. Iago. I am forry to heare this? Oth. I had beene happy, if the generall Campe, ? Oib. Your Napkin is too little : Exit. Let it alone: Come, lle go in with you. Pyoners and all, had tafted her fweet Body, Def. I am very forry that you are not well. So I had nothing knowne. Oh now, for cuer Æmil. I am glad I haue found this Napkin : This was her first remembrance from the Moore, Farewell the Tranquill minde; farewell Content; My way ward Husband hath a hundred times Farewell the plumed Troopes, and the bigge Warres, Woo'd me to fteale it. But fhe fo loves the Token, That makes Ambition, Vertue 1 Oh forewelk, Farewell the neighing Steed, and the fhrill Trumpe, (For he coniur'd her, the thould ever keepe it) That the referues it enermore about her, The Spirit-furting Drum, th'Eare-piercing Fife, To kille, and talke too. Ile haue the worke tane out, The Royall Banner, and all Qualitie And giu'r Jage : what he will do with it Pride, Pompe, and Circumftance of glorious Warres Heauen knowes, not I: And O you mortall Engines, whofe rude thromes Th'inmortal loves dread Clamours, counterfet, Inothing, but to plesse his Fantasie. Farewell : Orbello's Occupation's gone. Iage. Is't possible my Lord? Orb. Villaine, be fure thou prove my Loues Whore Enter Ingo. Ingo. How now ? What do you heere alone ? Ewil. Do not you chide : I have a thing for you. Be fure of it : Give me the Occular proofe, 0

Or by the worth of mine eternall Soule, As if he pluckt vp kiffes by the rootes, That grew upon my lippes, laid his Leg oremy Thigh, Thou had'ft bin bester haue bin borne a Dog And figh, and kiffe, and then cry curfed Fate, Then answer my wak'd wrath. That gaue thee to the Moore, 'Otb. O monstrous ! monstrous ! lage. 1s't come to this? Oth. Make me to fee're or (at the least) so proue it, That the probation beare no Hindge, nor Loope, Ingo. Nay, this was but his Dreame. To hang a doubt on : Or wae vpon thy life. Iage. My Noble Lord. 1. Orb. If thou doft flander her, and torture me, Neuer pray more : Abandon all remorfe That do demonstrate thinly. Oth. He teare her all to peeces. On Horrors head, Horrors accumulate: Do deeds to make Heaven weepe, all Earth amaz'd; For nothing canft thou to damnation adde, She may be honeft yet : Tell me but this, Greater then that. Iago. OGrace! O Heauen forgiue me! Are you a Man? Haue you a Soule? or Senfe? God buy you : take mine Office. Oh wretched Foole, That lou'it to make thine Honefty, a Vice! (I am fure it was your wines) did I to day Oh monstrous world! Take note, take note (O World) See Caffio wipe his Beard with. To be direct and honeft, is not fafe. Oth. If it be that, I thanke you for this profit, and from hence Ligo. If it be that, or any, it was here. Ile loue no Friend, fith Loue breeds fuch offence. It ipeakes against her with the other proofes. Otb. Nay ftay : thou fhould'ft be honeft. One is too poore, too weake for my revenge. Ingo. I should be wife; for Honeffie's a Foole, And loofes that it workes for, Now do lice tis true. Looke heere lago, Orb. By the World, I thinke my Wife be honeft, and thinke fhe is not : Arife blacke vengeance, from the hollow hell, I thinke that thou art suft, and thinke thou art not : Ilehaue some proofe. The Tragedie of Othello 328 Def. How now (good Caffie) what's the newes with Caffie. What make you from home? you? How is't with you, my most faire Bianca ? Caffie. Madam, my former fuite. I do befeech you, Indeed (fweet Loue) I was comming to your houfe. That by your vertuous meanes, I may againe Bian. And I was going to your Lodging, Caffio. Exift, and be a member of his loue, What? keepe a weeke away? Seven dayes, and Nights? Whom I, with all the Office of my heart Eight score eight houres ? And Louers absent howres Intirely honour, I would not be delayd. More tedious then the Diall, eight fcore times? If my offence, be of fuch mortall kinde, Oh weary reckining. That nor my Seruice palt, nor present Sorrowes, Caffio. Pardon me, Bianca: Nor purpos'd merit in futurity, I have this while with leaden thoughts beene preft, Can ranfome me into his loue againe, But I shall in a more continuate time But to know fo, mull be my benefit : Strike off this score of absence. Sweet Bianca So shall I cloath me in a forc'd content, Take me this worke out. And thut my felfe vp in fome other courfe Bianca. Oh Caffio, whence came this? This is fome Token from a newer Friend, To Fortunes Almes. Def Alas (thrice-gentle Caffie) To the felt-Absence : now I feele a Cause : Is't come to this? Well, well. My Aduocation is not now in Tone; My Lord, is not my Lord; nor fhould I know him, Caffio. Go too, weinin : Were he in Fauour, as in Humour alter'd, Throw your vilde geffes in the Diuels teeth, From whence you haue them. You are icalious now, So helpe me euery spirit sanctified, That this is from fome Miftiis, fome icincinbrance; As I haue spoken for you all my beft, And flood within the blanke of his difpleafure No, in good troth Bianca. Tian. Why, who's is it? For my free speech. You must awhile be patient: What I can do, I will : and more I will Caffie. I know not neither : Then for my felfe, I dare. Let that foffice you. I found it in my Chamber, Ingo. Is my Lord angry ? I like the worke well; Ere it be demanded Æmil. He went hence but now : (As like enough it will) I would have it coppied : And certainly in Arange vnquiernesse. Take it, and doo't, and leave me for this time. Iago. Can he be angry? I have seene the Cannon Bian. Leaue you? Wherefore? Caffio. I do attend heere on the Generall, When it hath blowne his Rankes into the Ayre, And like the Diuell from his very Arme And thinke it no addition nor my wifh Puff't his owne Brother : And is he angry? To haue him fee me woman'd. Bian. Why, I ptay you? Something of moment then: I will go meet him, There's matter in't indeed, if he be angry. Exit Caffie. Notthat I love you not. Biar B t that you do not loue me. Def. I prythee do fo. Something fure of State, Either from Venice, or fome vuhatch'd practife I pray you bring one on the way a little, Made demonstrable heere in Cyprus, to him, And fay, if I thall fee you foone at night? Hath pudled his cleare Spirit : and in iuch cales, Caffio. 'T is but a little way that I can bring you, Mens Natures wangle with inferiour things, For I attend heere : But Ile fee you foone. Oshe. Why? What art thou? Def. Your wifemy Lord : your true and loyall wife. Othello. Come sweare it : damne thy felfe, least being like one of Heauen, the divells themfelues ihould feare to ceaze thee. Therefore be double damn'd: fweare thou art honeft.

Def. Heauen doth truely know it.

Othe. Heauen truely knowes, that thou art falle as hell. Def. To whom my Lord?

With whom ? How am I falle ?

Othe. Ah Defdemon, away, away, away. Def. Alas the heavy day : why do you weepe?

Am I the motive of these teares my Lord? It happely you my Father do fuspect,

An Inftrument of this your calling backe,

Lay not your blame on me : if you have loft him, I haue loft him too.

Othe. Had tpleas'd Heauen, To try me with Affliction, had they rain'd All kind of Sores, and Shames on my bare-head: Steep'd me in pouertie to the very lippes. Giuen to Captinitie, me, and my vtmost hopes, I thould have found in fome place of my Soule A drop of patience. But alas, to make me The fixed Figure for the time of Scorne, To point his flow, and mouing finger at. Yet could I beare that too, well, very well : But there where I have garnerd vp my heart, Where either I must live, or beare no life, The Fountaine from the which my currant runnes, Or elfe dries vp : to be difcarded thence, Or keepe it as a Cefterne, for foule Toudes To knot and gender in. Turne thy complexion there : Patience, thou young and Rose-lip'd Cherubin, 1 heere looke grim as hell.

Def. I hope my Noble Lord efteemes me honeft. Othe. Oh I, as Sommer Flyes are in the Shambles, That quicken even with blowing. Oh thou weed : Who art fo louely faire, and fmell'ft fo fweete, That the Senfeakes at thee, Enter Rodorige.

How now Rodorigo? Red. I do not finde That thou deal'st iustly with me. Iago. What in the contrarie? Rodori. Euery day theu dafts me with some deuise Iago, and rather, as it fee nes to me now, keep'ft from me all conuentencie, then suppliest me with the least aduantage of hope : I will indeed no longer endure it. Nor am I yet perswaded to put vp in peace, what already I haue foolishly suffred. Inge. Will you heare me Rederige?

Rodori. I

the Moore of Venice.

And hell gnaw his bones, .

Performances are no kin together. lago. You charge me most vniustly.

Rodo. With naught but truth : I haue wasted my selfe out of my meanes. The lewels you have had from me to deliuer Desdemona, would halfe haue corrupted a Votarist. You have cold me she hath received them, and return'd me expectations and comforts of fodaine respect, and acquaintance, but 1 finde none.

Iago. Well, go too:very well. Rod. Very well. go too: I cannot go too, (man) nor tis not very well. Nay I think it is feuruy : and begin to finde my selfe sopt in it.

Iago. Very well. Rodor. 1 tell you, 'tis not very well : I will make my felfe knowne to Desdemona. If the will: returne me my Iewels, I will give over my Suit, and repent my vnlawfull solicitation. Ifnot, assure: your selfe, I will seeke satisfaction of you.

Ingo. You haue faid now. Rodo. I : and faid nothing but what I protest intendment of doing.

Iago. Why, now I see there's mettle in thee: and euen from this inftant do build on thee a better opinion then ever before : give me thy hand Rodorigo. Thou haft taken against me a most just exception: but yet I proteft I haue dealt most directly in thy Affaire.

Red. It hath not appeer'd.

lago. I grant indeed it hath not appeer'd : and your suspission is not without wit and judgement. But Rodorigo, if thou haft that in thee indeed, which I have greater reason to beleeve now then ever (I meane purpole, Courage, and Valour) this night fhew it. If thou the next night following enioy not Desdemona, take me from this world with Ireacherie, and deutie Engines for my life.

Rod. Well: what is it ? Is it within, reason and compaffe ?

Lago. Sir, there is especiall Commission come from Venice to depute Caffio in Othello's place.

Rod. Is that true ? Why then Othello and Defdemona returne againe to Venice.

lago. Oh no the goes into Mauritania and taketh away with him the faire Defdemona, vnlesse his abode be lingred heere by some accident. Wherein none can be fo determinate, as the remoting of Caffio.

Rod. How do you meane removing him?

lage. Why, by making him vncapable of Othello's place : knocking out his braines.

Rod. And that you would have me to do.

Ingo. And you shalbe fatisfi'd.

lago. I: if you dare do your felse a profit, and a right. He fups to night with a Harlotry : and thither will I go to him. He knowes not yet of his Honourable Fortune, if you will watch his going thence (which I will fashion to tall out betweene twelve and one) you may take him at your pleafure. I will be neere to fecond your Attempt, and the shall fail betweene vs. Come, stand nor amaz'd at it, but go along with me: I will shew you such a necessitie in his death, that you shall thinke your selfe bound to put it on him.' It is now high supper time : and the night growes to waft. About it. Rod. I will heare further reason for this.

Scena Tertia.

Enter Othello, Lodousco, Defdemona Amilia, and Arendants.

Lod. I do beseech you Sir, trouble your selfe no further. Oth. Oh pardon me : 'cwill do me good to walke. Lodoni. Madam, goodnight . I humbly thanke your Ladyibip

Def. Your Honour is most welcome.

Orb. Will you walke Sir ? Oh Defdemena,

Def. My Lord.

Oshello. Get you to bed on th'instant, I will be return'd forch with : difimife your Attendant there : look't be done. Exe .

Def. I will my Lord.

Em. How goes it now? He lookes gentler then he did. Def. He faies he will returne incontinent,

And hath commanded me to go to bed,

And bid me to difmiffe you.

Am. Dilmisse me?

Def. It was his bidding : therefore good Emilia, Giue me my nightly wearing, and adieu.

We must not now displeate him.

Æmil. I, would you had neuer seene him. Def. So would not I : my love doth to approve him, That even his flubbornefle ihis checks, his frownes, (Prythee vn-pin me)have grace and favour.

Æmi. I haue, laid those Sheetes you bad me on the bed. Def.All's one: good Father, how foolifh are our minds? If I do die before, prythee fhrow d me In one of these same Sheetes.

Æmil, Come,come : you talke, Def. My Mother had a Maid call'd Barbarse, She was in love : and he fhe lou'd prou'd mad, And did forfake her. She had a Song of Willough, An'old thing 'twas : but it exprcis'd her Fortune, And the dy'd finging it. My Lord, my Lord. 1 . . 1 Ork . What noife is this? Not dead?not yet quite dead ? I am that cruell, am yet mercifull, I would not have thee linger in thy paine ?" So, fo. Emilwithin. What hoar my Lord, my Lord? Oth. Who's there? Amil. Oh good my Lord, I would speake is word with you. Oth. Yes : 'Tis Emilia : by and by. Shee's dead. 'Tis like the comes to speake of Caffie's death : The noise was high. Hah, no more moouing? Still as the Graue, Shall the come in? Wer'r good ? I thinke she furres againe. No, what's best to do? If the come in, thee'I fure fpeake to my wife: My wife, my wife : what wife ? I have no wife. Oh in iupportable ! Oh heauy houre ! Me thinkes, it fhould be now a huge Eclipfe' Of Sunne, and Moone ; and that th'affrighted Globe Did yawne at Alteration. Æmil. I do beleech you That I may speake with you. Oh good my Lord.' Oth. I had forgot thee : oh come in Amilia. Soft, by and by, let me the Curtaines draw. Where art thou? What's the matter with thee now ? Enter Æmilia. Æmil. Oh my good Lord, yonders foule Murthers done. Oth. What? now? Æmil. But now, my Lord. Oth. It is the very error of the Moone, She comes more neerer Earth then the was wont, And makes men mad. Amil. (affio, my Lord, hath kill'd A young Venetian, call'd Rodorigo, Oth. Rodorigo kill'd? and Caffio kill'd? Emil No. Coffie is not kill'd. Oth. Not Caffie kill'd? Then Murther's out of tune, And iweet Reuenge growes harfh. Def. Ofallely, fallely murder'd. Æmil. Alas! what cry is that f Oth. That? What? Æmsl. Out, and alas, that was my Ladies voice. Helpe, helpe hoa, helpe. Oh Ladie speake againe, Sweet Defdemona, oh fweet Miftris, fpeake. Def. A guildesse death, I dye. Æmil. Oh who hath done this deed? Def. No body : I my selfe, farewell: Commend me to my kinde Lord: oh farewell. Oth. Why, how fhould fhe be murdred? Emil. Alas: who knowes? Oth. You heare her fay her felfe, it was not I. Æmil. She faid fo : I muit needs report the truth. Oth. She's like a Liar gone to burning hell, 'Twas I that kill'd her. Amil. On the more Angell fhe, and you the blacker Diuell. Orb. She turn'd to folly : and the was a whore. Æmil. Thou do'ft bely her, and thou art a diuell. Och. She was falle as water. Æmil. Thou art rash as fire, to fay That the was falfe. Oh the was heauenly true. Orb. Caffie did top her : Ask thy husband elfe.

O, I were damn'd beneath all depth in hell: But that I did proceed vpon juff grounds To this extremity. Thy Husband knew it all.

Osb. I am not valiant neither : But every Punie whipfter gets my Sword. But why fhould Honor out-live Honefty? Let it go all.

Æmil. What did thy Song boad Lady? Heake, canft thou beare me? I will play the Swan, And dye in Mulicke : Willough, Willough, Willough, Moore, the was chafte ! She lou'd thee, cruell Moore, So come my Soule to bliffe, as I speake true : So speaking as I thinke, alas, I dye.

Oth. I have another weapon in this Chamber, It was a Sword of Spaine, the Ice brookes temper : Oh heerc it is : Vnkle I must come forth.

Gra. If thou attempt it, it will coft thee deere; Thou hait no weapon, and perforce mult suffer.

Otb. Looke in vpon me then, and speake with me, Or naked as I am I will affault thee.

Gra. What is the matter?

Osbel. Behold, I haue a weapon : A better neuer did it felfe fustaine Vpon a Soldiers Thigh. I have seene the day, That with this little Arme, and this good Sword, I have made my way through more impediments Then twenty times your ftop. But (on vaine boaft) Who can controll his Fate? Tis not fo now. Be not affraid, though you do fee me weapon'd : Heere is my iournies end, heere is my burt And verie Sea-marke of my vtmoft Saile. Do you go backe difmaid? 'Tis a loft feare: Man but a Rush against Othello's breft, And he retires. Where fhould Othello go? Now : how doft thou looke now? Oh ill-Starr'd wench, Pale as thy Smocke : when we shall meete at compa, This looke of thine will hurle my Soule from Heauen, And Fiends will inarch at it. Cold, cold, my Girle? Euen like thy Chaftity. O curfed, curfed Slaue ! Whip me ye Diuels,

From the possefilion of this Heauenly fight : Blow me about in windes roast me in Sulphure, Wash me in steepe-downe gulfes of Liquid fire. Oh Defdemon! dead Defdemon : dead. Oh, oh !

Enter Lodouico, Caffie, Montano, and Ingo, with Officers.

Lod. Where's this rafh, and most vnfortunate man? Otb. That's he that was Othello: heere I am. Lod. Where is that Viper? Bring the Villaine forth. Oth Hook down towards his feet; but that's a Fable, If that thou bee'ft a Diuell, I cannot kill thee.

Lod. Wrench his Sword from him.

Iago. I bleed Sir.but not kill'd. Othel. I am not forty neither, Il'd haue thee liue: For in my fenfe, 'tis happineffe to die.

Lod. Oh thou Othello, that was once fo good, Falme in the practife of a curfed Slaue, What fhall be faide to thee.

Oth. Why any thing:

An honourable Murderer, if you will :

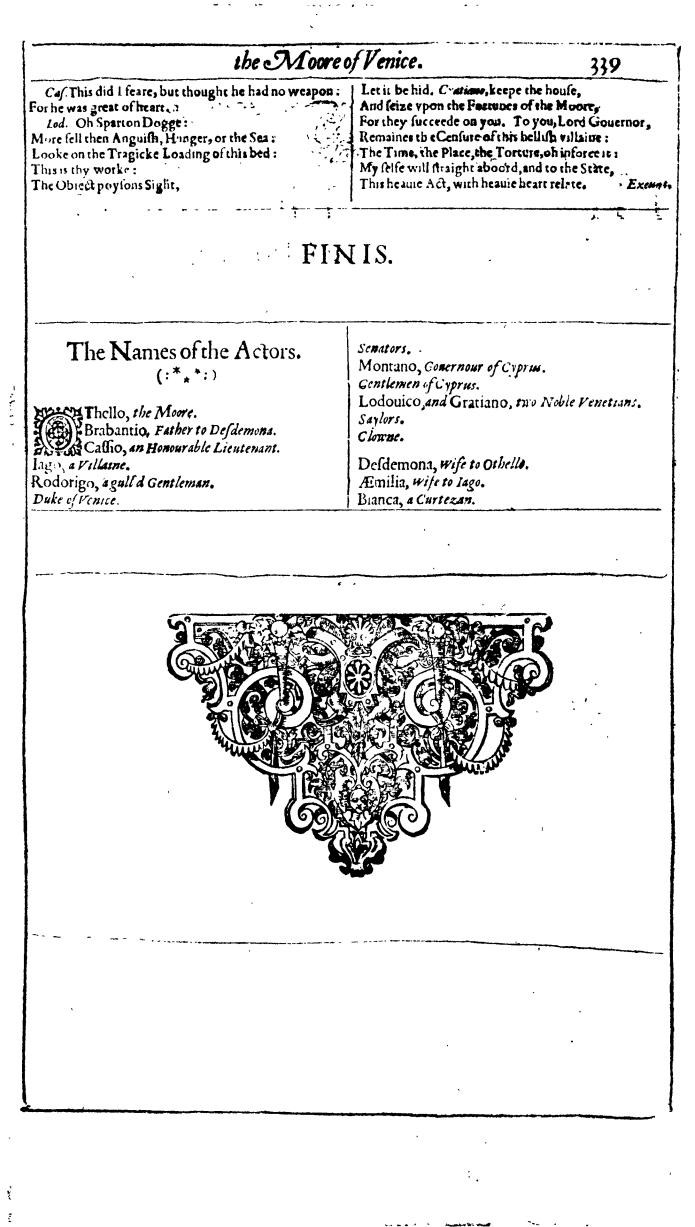

For nought I did in hate, but all in Honour. Led This wretch hath part confeft his Villany:

Did you and he confent in Caffio's death. Oth. 1.

Oih. 1. Caf. Deere Generall, I neuer gaue you caufe. Oth. I do beleeue 11, and I aske your pardon : Will you, I pray, demand that demy-Diuell,

Why he hath thus enfnar'd my Soule and Body. Ing.Demand me nothing: what you know, you know: From this time forth, I neuer will speake wora, Lod. What? not to pray? Gra. Torments will ope your lips, Oth. Well, thou doft beft. Led. Sir, You shall understand what hath befalne, Which, as Ithinke, you know not) heere is a Letter Found in the pocket of the flaine Rodorige, And heere another, the one of them imports The death of Caffie, to be vndertooke By Roderige. Oth. O Villaine! Caffio. Most Heathenish, and most groffe. Lod. Now, heere's another discontented paper Found in his pocke: too : and this it feemes Rodorigo meant t'haue fent this damned villaine: But that (belike) lage in the interim Came in, and satisfi'd him. Oth. Oh thou pernitious Caitiffe; How came you (Caffio) by that Handkerchiefe That was my wines ? Caffio. I found it in my Chamber : And he himselfe confest it but even now That there he dropt it for a speciall purpose, Which wrought to his defire. Othel. O Foole, foole, foole! Caffio. There is befides, in Rodorigo's Letter, How he vpbraides Iago, that he made him Braueme vpon the Watch : whereon it came That I was caft : and even but now he fpake (After long feeming dead) lago hurt him, Lage fet him on. Lol. You mult forfake this roome, and go with vs: Your Power, and your Command is taken off, And (affio rules in Cyprus. For this Slaue, If there be any cunning Crueitie, That can torment him much, and hold him long, It shall be his. You shall close Priloner reft, Till that the Nature of your fault be knowne To the Venetian State. Come, bring away. Oth. Soft you; a word or two before you goe: I have done the State fome feruice, and they know't: No more of thar. I pray you in your Letters, When you fhall theie voluckie deeds relate, Speake of me, as I am. Nothing extenuate, Nor set downe ought in malice. Then must you speake, Of one that lou'd not wifely, but too well: Of one, not eatily lealious, but being wrought, Perplexed in the extreame . Of one, whole hand (Like the bale Indean) threw a Pearle away Richer then all his Tribe: Of one, whole fubdu'd Eyes, Albeit vn-vied to the melting moode, Drops seares as fast as the Arabian Trees Their Medicinable gumme. Set you downe this: And fay belides, that in Aleppo once, Where a malignant, and a Turbond-Turke Beate a Venetian, and traduc'd the State, I tooke by th'throat the circumcifed Dogge, And fmoace him, thus, Lod. Oh bloody period.

Gra. All that is fpoke, is marr'd. Oth. I kift thee, ere I kill'd thee; No way but this, Killing my felfe, to dye vpon a kiffe. Caffio.
